

National Mortgage News

DIGITAL MORTGAGE

September 16–17, 2025 | Loews Coronado Bay Resort | San Diego, CA

Dear

I'm writing to request your approval to attend the DIGITAL MORTGAGE conference on September 16–17, 2025, at The Loews Coronado Hotel in San Diego. This event offers a unique chance to explore the latest trends and innovations in mortgage technology, helping me stay ahead of the curve. By attending, I'll gain insights and build connections that will directly benefit both my growth and our team's success.

Here's why I believe this conference is important for my professional development and growing our company:

- Professional Development: The DIGITAL MORTGAGE Conference covers key topics like AI tools, customer experience trends, and the future of automation—areas that align with my current role and career goals. Attending will provide valuable insights that can enhance my workflow and help us stay ahead of the competition.
- Networking Opportunities: The conference will bring together industry leaders, technology innovators, and top mortgage executives and experts, offering valuable networking opportunities. Attending DIGITAL MORTGAGE can help me establish connections with peers, thought leaders, and potential collaborators that can open doors for future partnerships that benefit our company.
- Knowledge Transfer: I plan to share key takeaways and best practices from the conference with the team upon my return. This will help us stay updated on key AI trends in the industry and incorporate new strategies into our workflows, boosting team performance and collaboration.
- Return on Investment: The DIGITAL MORTGAGE Conference is an investment in my skills and knowledge, which will ultimately contribute to the company's success. The insights I gain in understanding new cutting-edge AI solutions, regulations, and how to adapt to market changes will help improve our processes and increase our efficiency.

The total cost of attending includes the registration fee, travel, and hotel accommodations. By registering early, we can take advantage of significant savings on the registration fee, maximizing our return on investment. I'm confident that the insights and connections I'll gain will provide substantial value for both my professional development and the company's growth.

I appreciate your consideration and approval, and I'm happy to provide any additional details or answer any questions. Thank you for your time and consideration—I look forward to your response.

Sincerely,